Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Progressive Bee Culture or Apine Instincts and Labors Defined: Illustrated and Systematized, Upon a New Theory It has been known for a long time that bees hived in a large box, or a bee-house, would continue to work year after year and seldom swarm out, and it was of course also known that they would store a great quantity of honey, but in a form that was unsuited to marketing. Since the introduction of the improved System of Bee Culture, many efforts have been made to take advantage of these facts in producing non-swarming hives, but all of them being based on erroneous conceptions of the causes producing these results, they have been failures. The addition to hives of extensive box room on the top, it was soon found, would not do it. The addition of boxes on the side, while it produced better results, failed to prevent swarming. The introduction of the Melextractor caused many bee-keepers to do away with boxes, and instead give additional room in the hive for frames, without separating them from the brood-nest. This has a great tendency to prevent swarming, but does not do it entirely, from the fact that the continued handling of the comb frequently produces disorganization, resulting in abnormal action on the part of the bees, and is the source of swarming, besides which, hives so constructed do not conform to the requirements of the bees. If bee-keeping is to be made a success, it will not be accomplished by the use of the Honey Emptying Machine. Its limited use has already so depreciated honey that it is difficult to find a market for it at...
