How little he makes of his miracles and forbids their publication, to bring out the same truth. Second Journey North and Return to Capernaum.--Jesus again goes north, this time to the parts of Caesarea Philippi (Matt. 16: 13), for the same reasons that the first journey north was undertaken. This journey is very fruitful in the instruction which Jesus gives to his disciples about his Messiahship, death and resurrection, also in the marvelous event of the transfiguration. Caesarea Philippi was a city about twenty-five or thirty miles northeast of the Sea of Galilee, at the foot of Mount Hermon. The city was 1,050 feet above the sea level, while the mountain towered over 8,000 feet above the city. This city was in the Tetrarchy of Philip, and had recently been rebuilt by him. This journey seems to have been undertaken to train the...
