Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Vaccination: Its Necessity, Control, Efficiency, and Safety In America, the demagogue is ready to proclaim that all such measures are contrary to the genius of our form of government. Let us dwell for a while upon this objection. The assumption that the individual has the right to protect, or abuse and neglect, his own health at pleasure, is false in morals, and, as we believe, equally in opposition to the social and statutory law. And, as a numerous population is of the highest importance to the strength and welfare of a nation, it should be the anxious study of legislators to favor that end by the enactment of such laws as will best protect the health and lives of the people. It is a well known fact in the economy of population, that the conditions which most favor the multiplication of the human species are health, the enjoyment of peace, and an abundance of food; and, per contra, of necessity, the conditions which most seriously retard the increase of population are pestilence, war, and scarcity...
